The winner will be announced on Monday 6th January 2020 and receives £5,000. The winning book will then be considered for the 2019 Costa Book of the Year and a chance of winning a further £30,000 alongside the winners in the four other categories. The Book of the Year has twice been won by a children's book: Philip Pullman's The Amber Spyglass in 2001, and The Lie Tree by Frances Hardinge in 2015.
